

A Typical Calendar Year for an Accountancy Trainee

A typical year training to become an accountant will include a mixture of practical training, exams and exam tuition combined with practical work experience as shown below. Although this provides an outline of what a typical student's year would look like, the exact content will vary from firm to firm.

Training	Weeks 1-52
Exam Training Week 1	1
Practical Training Course	2-3
Exam Training Week 2	4
Work Experience/ Study Leave & Exams	5-9
Exam training Week 3	10
Revision & Exams	11-13
Annual Leave	14-15
Practical Training Course	16
Work Experience & Home study	17-18
Exam Training Week 4	19
Work Experience & Home study	20-23
Exam Training Week 5-7	24-26
Work Experience & Home study	27-30
Exam Training Weeks 8-10 & Exams	31-34
Practical Training Course	35
Annual Leave	36-37
Exam Training Week 11	38
Revision & Exams	39-40
Work Experience & Home study	41-44
Exam Training Week 12	45
Revision & Exams	46-47
Work Experience	48-52

30+ Graduate Vacancies: Trainee Accountants (London & South East)

Accountancy offers a rewarding career with excellent salaries and huge potential for career progression.

We offer graduate programmes with a range of prestigious firms of Chartered Accountants based in London and the South East. Each year we have approximately 30 vacancies for graduate trainees across all firms for which we recruit. This means when you apply through us, you're not just applying to one firm of Chartered Accountants, you're applying to many.

Our graduate programme is more than just a job. It's a career path!

Our graduate programme provides you with a 3-year training contract. You will benefit from a wide range of practical experience while studying for your professional accountancy examinations; all of which leads to the ICAEW (ACA) Chartered Accountant qualification.

You will receive a competitive salary and an excellent study and benefits package. Add to this the opportunities and varied lifestyle that working in the South East has to offer and it all adds up to a very rewarding opportunity.

Apply online today and take the first step to becoming a Chartered Accountant